GOOD BUYS

Coffee County consumers will get some real good buys in both pork and broilers in the weekend ahead. Broilers are selling cheaper now in the stores than they have in several years. In fact, I can remember a time when they were this good of a buy. Hams, bacon, sausage and other pork products are also going to be a good buy if the stores will lower their prices in line with what the producers are receiving. Of course, all of this is had for the Coffee County producers, but it is good for the consumers. I hasten to add that there are ups and downs in prices. So I certainly hope that our people will take advantage of these good buys.

CANDIDATE

Philip Martin, president of the Coffee County Farm Bureau, will be a candidate for election to the State Board of Directors of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation. Philip has served as president of the Coffee County Farm Bureau for the past three years. For several years before this he served as president of the American Dairy Association in Alabama. I am sure that Philip will do a good job if he is elected. Coffee County is fortunate in having some outstanding young men to give leadership to programs which will be beneficial to the county.

CATFISH COMMITTEE

I have recently been named a member of a newly created Catfish Study Committee. As a member of this committee I will get to tour catfish operations in Arkansas, Mississippi and Georgia December 6, 7 and 8. There are many ways that catfish can be grown commercially. One purpose of this tour will be to seek out the advantages and disadvantages of each method. I am looking forward to going on this trip with other members of the Extension staff at Auburn.

HOG OUTLOOK

James Danion, our specialist at Auburn in charge of the Expanded Swine Program, is not at all gloomy about hog prices. He says that any time the industry experiences a 15% increase in production, growers can look for sharply reduced prices. At this time, according to Danion, the prices received are much lower, but he says better prices are ahead. My advice to our Coffee County folks would be to watch expenses and to sell at lighter weights than they would ordinarily. I recommend lighter weights because pigs produce more meat on less feed up to 200 pounds than they do from 200 pounds on up. So efficiency of production is increased. In-dentally, now is a good time for folks to get rid of old, worn out sows and replace with better breeding stock.

BULL SALE

The annual BCHA sale of on-farm tested bulls will be held Tuesday, December 8 at Auburn, Richard Deese, Extension Animal Husbandman in charge of the sale, said this sale will include 31 Angus, 10 Hereford and 16 Polled Hereford and one Red Angus for a total of 58 bulls. All of these bulls have completed a test-weaning test with better than 2 pounds gained per day of age while on test.

For the first time the sale will also include heifers. Ten registered Angus heifers will be offered, be to seek out the advantages and disadvantages of each method. I am looking forward to going on this trip with other members of the Extension staff at Auburn.

GRASS TETANY

A lot of folks have asked, "What does grass tetany mean?" This is a term usually given to a disturbance occurring in cows and is characterized by low blood serum magnesium levels. The symptoms are excitement, incoordination and loss of appetite, viciousness, staggering and falling, muscle twitching, anxious or wild look, grinding of the teeth, labored breathing, usually followed by convulsions and death. Older brood cows nursing calves while grazing oats, rye or wheat pasture seem to be most susceptible. It occurs most often in December, January, February and March. Check your herd carefully after they go on grass. If you see symptoms, call your veterinarian immediately.

Looking on at left, standing, is Commissioner Byron Callaway and kneeling, County Extension Chairman Tom Casaday. Mr. Hillingim is shown in the center. Hillingim has about a dozen catfish ponds, some of which are already open to public fishing and others will be open when the fish are big enough.

LARGEST CATCH -- George W. Andrews of New Brockton, Ala., shows off the largest fish caught Oct. 24 during the Ft. Rucker, Ala., Wildlife Association's Fall Fishing Tournament. The eight-pound large-mouth bass won him an electric boat motor, a remote control battery and battery box, first place prizes. The contest began at 5 a.m. and lasted until 5 p.m. at Lake Thlocco.

Keep Communication Open

"Talking to him is like talking to a stone wall." "He never gives me a chance to finish what I'm trying to say!" Do these comments sound familiar? These and similar ones signal a communication breakdown, says Miss Barbara Fite, Extension specialist in human development. "One of the most important elements in happy family life is sharing ideas and feelings. Because of this, says the specialist, there is a need to keep communication lines open. How? Most importantly by learning to listen. --LISTEN to feelings. Feelings are often hidden behind the words being said. --LISTEN to understand. Most of us at times tune someone out when they are talking. We may try to read or to think of our reply, or our interest may simply wander. Our automatic 'uh huh's' may accidentally punctuate the speaker's remarks at appropriate places, but the important thing is that we are not "with" him and, therefore, can't get his complete message. --LISTEN without judging. Within a family it's important for members to be free to express even unapproved feelings without fear of being rejected, to talk about the unpleasant as well as the pleasant. --LISTEN for the sake of another. One of our needs as human beings is to express what we think and feel about people and things. Giving a person an opportunity to share, in confidence, his deepest feelings helps keep communication lines open. --LISTEN to yourself. We need to listen to ourselves occasionally if we are to improve our communication. This is most easily done in retrospect. In looking back, we might find that we are often misunderstood possibly because we don't stop long enough to see if our messages are being received. Others and to ourselves-- is the first and most important step in good communication, says Miss Fite.

Howard Foreman Completes Navy Basic Training

Navy Seaman Apprentice Howard L. Foreman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Foreman of Elba, Ala., was graduated from basic training at the Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla. "I am proud of my son," says his father. "He has completed a very important step in his life. He is now a member of the United States Navy. He will be serving his country and learning a great deal about himself and the world. We are proud of him and his accomplishments."

Foreman was one of the 100,000 men who completed basic training at the Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla., in 1970. He is now assigned to the 1st Marine Division, I Marine Corps, in Vietnam. He will be serving his country and learning a great deal about himself and the world. We are proud of him and his accomplishments.

Private Shooting Preserves May Stock Game

Any licensed private, commercial shooting preserve in Alabama that has been licensed by the Department of Conservation may stock for hunting exotic or non-native birds or animals except those listed on the Interior Department "Endangered Species" roster, Conservation Director Joe W. Graham announced Friday.

White tail deer may also be harvested under this license as long as this species is harvested only during the legal deer season, Graham said.

Under terms of the regulation which has the force and effect of law any licensed shooting preserve operator may obtain a letter from the Director of Conservation authorizing the stocking and harvesting of exotic or non-native game birds or animals as long as they're not on the "endangered" list.

In addition to the exotic or non-native species of game birds and white tail deer, the regulation provides that licensed game preserve operators may

A 15-year old boy was shot to death Saturday night and the victim's father is being held on a murder charge.

Mark A. Townsend, 44, of 610 Stanley St. died about 6 p.m. of a 32-caliber bullet wound to the heart, according to District Attorney Allen Edmond Cook.

Cook said the father, Marvin Townsend, 44, was charged with first-degree murder and held with bond.

Police said Mrs. Townsend told them her son had just come in from a paper route and was watching television when his father told him to stand.

Mrs. Townsend drew a revolver from his belt and shot the boy at close range, police said.

Cook said that animosity allegedly had been building up between the boy and his father over a period of years, "but we don't know that this was the motive."

Power Company Files Protest To Court Verdict

Alabama Power Company filed a motion in Butler County Circuit Court on November 12, 1970, asking the court to set aside a verdict and $15,000 judgment returned against the company on October 14, 1970, in a suit brought by the Butler County Private School Foundation, Inc., which operates the Fort Dale Academy. In its motion, the company also asked for a new trial.

The foundation, in its suit, charged the company with negligence in estimating the cost of electric service for the Fort Dale Academy. The estimate was made prior to construction of the academy, was based on plans presented by the academy's owners, and assumed normal operation of the academy's facilities.

Power set out 60 grounds in asking for dismissal of the verdict and judgement and for the granting of a new trial.

Among other grounds, the company said the verdict "is contrary to the law of the case" and "is contrary to the evidence."

The verdict, the company stated, "is not sustained by the great preponderance of the evidence" and "is against the weight of the evidence."

Alabama Power also said in its motion that the damages awarded by the jury "are excessive."

cussing the world feed grain outlook during the 1970's. The world is changing its diet. The view is for 138.1 million metric tons of meat to be consumed worldwide in 1980—58 per cent more than in 1965.

The spreading taste for meat could mean a nearly two-thirds increase in livestock feed by the end of this decade. Experts project that some 55 million tons of grain may be fed to livestock by 1980.

Mr. Weeks pointed out that although any grain can be fed to livestock, corn, grain sorghum, barley and oats make up the bulk of the world's harvested livestock feed grain. The United States is by far the world's leading producer, user, and exporter of feed grains, and is likely to continue to be so through 1980.

Feed grains play an important role in Coffee County agriculture. In 1964-65, the United States produced nearly 20 per cent and consumed about 25 per cent of the world total of feed grains.

Japan, also is likely to double its 1965 imports to over 10 million tons by 1980. And this could go to at least 15 million tons if the demand for meat in traditionally vegetarians increases.

Even though the developing countries exported 5 million tons, net of feed grains in 1965, they seem already established trend, destined to become importers.

For instance, Canada's grain imports are projected to range from 5 million to 10 million tons by 1980.

IF A TREE COULD TALK

BY G. M. DREWERY, FOREST RANGER

State Forestry Commission, Coffee County
Yes, spring and summer have come and gone, but fall will come and then the long cold winter months will follow. As I look back on the year that has just passed, I really can't say I am not proud, you see I got burned in the early spring and all my young saplings were killed. This place where I stand is no more than a desolation, blackened earth, charred debris lying everywhere.

Once a place of majestic beauty a beautiful recreation area where people would come to enjoy their summer outings, where once we could see little children running and playing and having a wonderful time while mother and dad and many times grandpa and grandma would relax and prepare delicious food. It will be many years to come now before this area will be inviting again. Who would spread a picnic lunch in dust and ashes, they must look for some other place. No campers did not cause this, for they always seem to be very careful. This fire was started by a fire bug, and he did not have four legs, this one had only two.

Had it been for my size I would have fallen too. I have been second degree and the pain was most severe, how do you feel when you get just a small burn? You must know then my suffering was great. How I would have liked to have cried for help, but you see I can't talk. Though you time will be long maybe I will survive. Many years for a tree to grow tall, but only one minute to die and fall. Many times I have watched the wildfire gathering food and playing in my branches and heard the songs of the birds as they were so happy here in their beautiful home. I even watched the brook trout leaping and playing in a clear stream that was located nearby, but someone has happened, the trout no longer play in the stream. Burned ashes have polluted their homes and they have gone, probably because of the fire. If I can live, the wildfire has vanished in search of food and shelter and even the soil is beginning to leave caused by erosion, nothing left to hold the soil. No, this fire bug was not four legged, he only has two. This awful thing almost happened a short time ago when a man was carelessly burning in a field nearby. The fire was left unattended and became a wild fire but we were saved only by a few minutes. The fire fighters arrived just in time and brought the fire under control.

As I stood tall, I could easily see this man as he left his parked vehicle and went to the edge of the road and set this fire, he was walking in a crouched position as trying not to be seen, but I saw and I believe the great creator saw and maybe frowned and was

Miscellaneous Tea-Shower

Compliments Miss Collier

Miss Harriet Lynn Collier, bride-elect of Robert Douglas Easters, Jr., was honored at a miscellaneous tea-shower at the home of Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Jr., Saturday night, November 14th.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Vaughan. Receiving were Miss Collier, her mother, Mrs. Sam Collier; Mrs. Robert Douglas Easters, Sr., mother of the groom - to-be; Mrs. William Martin Capps of Enterprise; Mrs. Eva Easters, grandmother of the groom - to-be; Mrs. William Boyd Morgan and Mrs. George Lamar Collier, Jr., the bride-elect's grandmother.

Miss Debbie Easters, sister of the groom-to-be, presided at the register in the foyer.

The tea table was covered with a beautiful white handmade madrasia linen and lace cloth. Decorating the table was a massive arrangement of pink Empress camellias accented by five burning tapers in a silver candelabra.

Punch, finger sandwiches, cheese straws and peanut butter sticks were served by Misses Vicki Vaughan, Becky Morrow, Nancy Brock and Heidi Collier, sister of the honoree.

Guests were invited into the den and gift rooms by the assisting hostesses.

Members of the Coffee County Chapter of the American Retired Teachers' Association held a forum in the conference room of Enterprise City Hall on Monday, November 9th. The purpose was to offer suggestions to be considered at the White House Conference in Washington, D. C., in 1971. Suggestions relating to requirements and needs of retired people were put into writing to be presented to a national committee.

Those taking part in the forum were: Mrs. Althea Prescott, Mrs. Ethel Lar-kins, Mrs. Mary Bryan, Miss Jeanette Garrett, Mrs. Lois Roberson, Mrs. Gussie Marsh, Miss Estelle Green, Mrs. Jimmy Prestwood.

Fall Meeting Of Retired

Teachers Held In Enterprise

The Coffee County Retired Teachers' Association held its fall meeting at an Enterprise restaurant recently.

Mrs. Althea C. Prescott, president, conducted a business session as the members were seated around the luncheon table which held a central decoration of yellow mums.

Plans were made to hold a forum on November 9 to formulate and offer suggestions for the White House Conference to be held in Washington, D.C., early in 1971. Mrs. Carol Peacock, a recent retiree, was cordially received as a new member. Program Chairman, Mrs. Lois Roberson, gave year books to those present.

An appropriate devotional was given by Miss Rennie Cox.

Mrs. Merle Bates was presented and asked to tell of her favorite hobby. She displayed some very artistic and lovely handwork and explained some of the methods.

Mrs. Roberson led in some spirited group singing. Members were then

EHS REPORT

Vicki Vaughan Selected To Fashion Board

Miss Vicki Vaughan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Vaughan, Jr., has been selected to the Elba High School Fashion Board to represent Elba High School, according to Kit Mason, Director of Education Department, McCall's Patterns, New York, New York.

You have now joined the international ranks of girls who, like yourself, are outstanding home economics students in their senior year of high school," says Miss Mason. Vicki is a very busy girl involved in the following organizations: Student Council, Beta Club, F.H.A., French Club, Junior Music Club; and she has won the following honors: state Vice-President in F.H.A. of the southeast district, delegate to the National Youth Power Congress, Homecoming Queen, representative F.H.A. at National Convention in New York City this summer. She belongs to the Methodist Church and is a member of the M.Y.F. She is an outstanding student in Mrs. Mary P. Young's Specialized Home Economics class and plans to attend the University of Alabama next fall where she will enter the school of Home Economics, and will pursue a major in Textile and Clothing.

Powder Puff Game To Be Held On Friday

Friday night, the Elba High School Club will sponsor a "powder puff" football game in Tiger Stadium at 7:00 p.m. All the proceeds will be used by the club for various projects.

Jackie Smart and Judy Asher were elected captains for the two teams, which have practiced an average of twice a week since October 29. Mrs. Francis Prior, the Science Club sponsor, has attended every practice and took the responsibility of dividing the teams. Approximately twenty-four girls went out for the teams. Marion Price, Donnie Holley, Freddie Moore, Phil English and David Stinson have taken time to coach and help to improve the weaknesses of each girl. Mrs. Prior, the girls and the coaches encourage everyone to come to the game and support the Science Club.

Eleven Sets of Twins Attend Elba High

Elba High School is proud to say we are blessed in abundance with look-alikes. We have 11 sets of twins. They are Rick and Steve Addison, Ann and Dale Stewart and Bev and Jan Young, Fay and Kaye Bunny Cox.

Wise, Freddie and Betty Mallory, Ann and Dan Boutwell, Kathy and Ricky Cross, Windy and Wilma Anderson, Aubrey and Audrey Williams, Dean and Steve Addison, Ann and Dale Stewart and Bev and Jan Young, Fay and Kaye Bunny Cox.

IS THERE HOPE???

To be a youth in this confused world, requires strength beyond compare. For today's problems range from love, to the oceans, land and air. The adults that live around us, seem constantly to disagree. That times have changed since their day.

That it's different for you and me, Our worries are really very simple, But seem tremendous to dissolve. And though we can't understand it, Problems add to each day that evolves. The youths have resorted to riots, To state the changing of the times, And there are those depending on drugs, To the blowing of their minds. As we, the youth, see hate on the grow, And slowly see God's image fade, We must unite together as one, To repair the damage God's people have made, Diann Stewart

EHS STUDENTS DISPLAY PROPER RESPECT FOR THE UNITED STATES AND STATE OF ALABAMA FLAGS DURING CEREMONIES CONDUCTED ON THE CAMPUIS EACH MORNING.

Darleen Hill Employed In V. I. E. Program

Darleen works as a V.I.E. student at Mary's style shop. She goes to work everyday at 8:00 a.m. The store stays open until 6:00 p.m., everyday except Wednesday. On Saturday she works from 8:00 until 6:00.

Her job is sales girl. She waits on customers, unloads and marks stock and helps Mrs. Whitman as a secondary buyer.

The hand boosters' club is putting out a lot of time and money to show the Elba Marching Tigers their appreciation. Mrs. Jo Anne Cannon is in charge of this planning committee, and is really spending a lot of time working with the band council on planning the decorations. There will be a band to play. The seniors of the Elba band and band officers will be recognized in a lead out. The decorations will consist of aluminum foil covering most of the stage. There will be reflectors hung in the corners to reflect the lighting used. The colored theme of the dance will be red and silver. The Elba Band Boosters club really deserves a lot of recognition for their work in having this dance for the band.

Troy State University launches its first annual High School Day, WAVE-O-RAMA '70', Saturday, November 21, 1970. Following registration in the lobby of C.B. Smith Hall, students attending will be welcomed to the University by Dr. Ralph Adams, President and Liddy Holington, President of the Student Government Association. Doug Taylor, outstanding athlete and student will speak briefly to the group. While in the opening session the students will be informed of the steps necessary for admission to Troy State. A highlight of the morning's program will be the opportunity for the high school students to meet with and discuss their plans with representatives from the various academic departments, including the new School of Nursing.

WAVE-O-RAMA '70' will be a day of fun and excitement for the students of Troy State University. Interested high school juniors and seniors, some 350 high schools in Alabama, Florida and Georgia have been invited to attend this special session. This session will be conducted informally, various university representatives attempting to inform and answer questions. Complimentary meal and football tickets will be provided for students and counselors attending the WAVE-O-RAMA '70'.

THANKSGIVING

PILGRIMS LANDING AT PLYMOUTH ROCK, DEC. 21, 1620

350 Years Ago, the Pilgrims set foot on Plymouth Rock—and a new way of life began. On board the Mayflower, the little band of Pilgrims signed a compact agreeing to form a local government for the new town of Plymouth, Massachusetts, and to abide by its laws. In the Mayflower Compact, we see the early flowering of democracy in America. As we observe Thanksgiving Day—yet another legacy from our Pilgrim forefathers—we can indeed be thankful for our proud heritage, for our American way of life, for freedom and its blessings. Let us then be humbly grateful, and let us reaffirm our faith in freedom, with our determination to preserve and cherish it forevermore.

Law Officers Raid Pot Party On Friday

A contingent of law officers from Coffee County, City of Elba and the City of Phenix City raided a marijuana party on the banks of Pea River late Friday night. The group consisted of three young people were indulging in "pot smoking" at the time the raid was made. One arrest was made.

The group was sitting around a campfire and smoking marijuana when law officers arrived. All but one were able to dispose of any marijuana they had before law officers approached them, according to reports from the Phenix City Police Department.

The one bearded youth arrested was released on a $100 bond and charged with possession of marijuana.

Very little information is available as law officers are still investigating the matter. One rumor that is without foundation is that the Elba youths were involved in the party. This rumor is false as the group included youths from Phenix City, New Brockton and Troy State University.

There were no Elba youths at the party.

Paul R. Runson, small business administration district director in Birmingham, Alabama, stated that his office is seeking information from small businesses who have received management training and consulting sponsored by SBA. This survey will determine the effectiveness of the increased earnings, employment and investment resulting from improved management techniques.

Brief questionnaires are being mailed to a sampling of existing and prospective businessmen who have received management assistance through SBA. Approximately 800 questionnaires will be mailed in the next few weeks. He hoped that these questionnaires will be returned promptly so that he could utilize the information.

This information is being sought to enable SBA to evaluate the effectiveness of its management assistance program to the small businessman. The results will also be used to adapt the program goals to the needs of the community.
